Patchwork Training Where Learning is FUN!

Patchwork Purple Paws – generally known as Mister Kai

Hello this is Kai again. I have been out on my travels again. This time to a weekend show in Derby, and I came home with loads of certificates.

On Saturday there was an agility show and I was entered. Guess who WON the steeplechase class. Well this handsome chap of course. I also came second in the Tunnel Mania. Now that was a fabulous class to do. Four tunnels and lots of jumps, it was great FUN.

I came second in the Best Trick class on the Sunday. I performed my favourite trick of Hide. I lay down and pretend to hide behind my front paws. I also can walk backwards through Mariannes legs. Is there no end to my talent. Sadly I did not win the fastest sausage eater class. It must be my good manners that I waited until I was allowed to eat it.....

We all had a great time and the sun actually came out of hiding for a while. I believe there was a bbq and a quiz in the evening but after all my jumping and going through tunnels I was tired and needed my rest so I slept through all the evenings festivities.

Going to shows is great FUN but tiring. So see if you can get to any, but you will need to make sure you have done lots of training first so come along to the classes and practise. I really enjoy practicing especially if some of my friends join in with me.

Keep a look out for me this month in Your Dog magazine. The sent a photographer to my field to do a feature on agility and he was very sensible and took hundreds of pictures of me. Not sure if they will be in the magazine but if they are then I will be available for autographing your copy.

A chap needs his rest what with agility classes, demonstrations, competitions and Talking Dogs Rally seminars I need a lie down. See you next month.

Woof woof—Kai
